DETAILED ACTION

The amendment filed on 6/5/2003 has been entered. Claims 168-292 remain for examination.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970);and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 168, 287 and 290 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1 of U.S. Patent No. 5,932,863 (herein referred to as the '863 patent).

Similar to claims 168, 287, and 290 of the instant application, claim 1 of the '863 patent recites:

- 1. A system for displaying programming to a user, the system comprising:
- a printed matter having at least one machine recognizable feature;
- a feature recognition unit having associated therewith a means for recognizing said feature and a transmitter for transmitting a coded signal in response to the recognition of said feature;

Art Unit: 2876

an intelligent controller having associated therewith a receiver for receiving said coded signal and a means for accessing programming material; and a display unit for presenting said programming material;

wherein said recognition unit, in response to the recognition of said feature, causes said intelligent controller to access said programming material and said display unit to execute or display said programming material, and wherein said display unit comprises a personal computer.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they all recited the same limitations; and thus would have been obvious in view of each other. As can be seen, the patent protections have been granted in an earlier filed patent application.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 169-286, 288-289, and 291-292 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The prior art fails to disclose system for displaying programming material to a user comprising:

- a printed real estate listing;
- a feature recognition device;

Art Unit: 2876

an intelligent controller;

a display unit; and having the functions and characteristics as recited in claims 168, 287, 290; and as further modified by dependent claims 169-286; 288-289; and 291-292.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 168-292 have been considered but are most in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
